Tof the twelve divisions passed the highest stand before rain began to be last half of the procession through intermittent showers. The scattered the huge crowds that added the sidewalks during the early afterbook. In addition to the tens of thougands of boys who marched, representing public schools, military schools, church organizations, the Boy Scouts and State military training organizations, there seemed to be just as many more unattached youngsters privileged to sit on the curb all the way from Forty-second street to Madison Square. Fifth avenue was dressed in its best for the occasion.

Headed by Gen. George W. Wingate, youtsful at the age of 84, the column moved into the avenue from Seventythird street just before 2 o'clock. It reached the reviewing stand at 2:10 P. M. and two hours and ten minutes later the last unit passed the knot of officials who braved the mists and slowers.

As if to put the stamp of youth upon showers.

As if to put the stamp of youth upon the demonstration, Wesley ("Freckles") Barry, junior marshal, in wild West costume, marched with Gen. Wingate and Later occupied a seat in the stand. The official "mouthpiece" in all probability was Kenneth Hughes, a youngster of 8, who has spoken with eloquence and gestures from the vaudeville stage, for the entire column was halted after the first formal units reached the reviewing stand while young Hughes pointed out to the Governor, the Mayor and others the significance of the celebration.

There were hundreds of public school boys in line, still other hundreds from church schools, and boys representing settlement houses, on picturesque floats. Keith's Boys' Band, in full complement, set the pace for the first units of the column. There were dozens of other bands and drum and fife corps in line. The United Neighborhood Houses depicted the work of their settlements on attractive floats. Boys from Brave Memorial Newsboys' House also reproduced some of their numerous activities. The Child Health Organization provided novelites in the shape of an animated milk bottle, the vegetable family, and even a bathtub to convey its message of good health.

This has been designated as Boys' Day in churches; to-morrow is to be observed.

ORGANIST SUES SCIENCE CHURCH FOR $100,000

Dismissed on Mysterious Charges, He Asserts.

rd Stephens, organist for ten years First Church of Christ, Scientist, at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, began an action yesterday against the church to recover $100,000 damages because of his dismissal as organist on charges of which he does not know the nature, but which, he alleges, have caused much "scandalous and false gostip!" about him.

If recites that he received a telegram at his home notifying him of his dismissal, which was followed by a letter missal, which was followed by a letter.

at his home notifying him of his dis-missal, which was followed by a letter tading that charges had been preferred against him and another organist had been engaged. He declares he never has been able to get a copy of the charges and has not been called on to answer them. His salary, he recites, was in-creased to $2,500 a year on December 24, 1919; and last May he was reengaged for another year and received a letter complimenting him on his work. The charges, he alleges, have damaged greatly his patronage of pupils whom he teaches organ playing, and with the sule of "Christian Science music" which he writes.

Plain Facts About Plain Carpets

A plain carpet, having no sympathetic design to cover any discrepancies in weaving or crudities in color, more than any other floor covering, is compelled to stand absolutely upon the merit of the manufacturer—the high class of materials employed.

The softness and uniformity of color, and the fact that it is made in widths wider than those customarily woven, demand the best effort of the expert dyer and manufacturer.

For rooms where it is desirable to preserve the design interest and beauty of the drapery and furniture fabrics-employed, a plain carpet of proper texture and color, with its absence of unsightly seams, is unexcelled for use in either rug form or as a complete floor covering.

The qualities mentioned below meet all the exacting demands of a dependable fabric.
